

Hafez, Hafez Ahmed, 2008

Water Poverty and Population in Egypt Challenges and Strategies.

The study aims to analyze the relation between population growth and water resources supply in Egypt, to highlight the trends of agricultural food production especially wheat and maize in Egypt and to highlight some solutions for water crisis in Egypt.

So, the study tries to evaluate population rates and water resources, planning and drawing population, development policies and drawing plans of water resources projects and population growth