Gender Gap in Egypt with Special Reference to Education and Women Status (1995-2005).

The study examines the gender gap in Egypt over the last decade. It tries to examine the gender gap in health, education, economic and political participation in Egypt, to identify the improvement that narrowed the gender gap over the last decade in relation to the improvement in women status in Egypt, to investigate the obstacles which impede the elimination of the gender gap in Egypt and to analyze the impact of education on gender differentials.

The data are derived mainly from EDHSs 1995, 2000, 2003 and 2005 as they are considered very useful in analyzing the gender gap.

The study used the Logistic Regression Model.
