

Sahar Ahmed Osman. 2010.

Population and Development in Sharkia Governorate, Egypt, 1966-2008.

This study aimed at:-

- Profiling the demographic, social and economic indicators and their prospective in Sharkia governorate.
- Investigating the effect of these indicators on education and the effect of education on these indicators and development in general.
- Provide policy makers with the whole picture of the current situation of population in Sharkia governorate for planning purposes.

The study depended on both descriptive and in-depth analysis to identify the demographic impact on future development of Sharkia governorate.

The study is based on data derived from the 2008 Egypt Demographic and Health Survey and the Egyptian population and housing censuses of 1960, 1976, 1986, 1996 and 2006.