

Yazid Ahmed Alomari, 2007

Persons with Disabilities in Jordan.

The main objective of this study is to give the background characteristics of disabled persons in Jordan, endeavor to show Demographic information, statistics and data related to all aspects of disabled persons, to find out obstacles faced in providing care for the disabled persons and to examine socio economic and demographic factors related to disability in Jordan. The study is based mainly on the data collected in Jordan's Population and Housing, censuses Household survey Programmes and Disability registration system. The study uses the logistic regression model to measure the effect of each explanatory variable on the disability status.